

Five Years of Changing Lives

Before the launch of Internet Essentials, the nation began to focus on the importance of having a home internet connection. The Federal Communications Commission presented the National Broadband Plan in 2010, which articulated the research behind issues of broadband adoption and digital inclusion. Internet Essentials was the first comprehensive and action-oriented response by a major Internet Service Provider to address the three main barriers to broadband adoption.

750K

families connected

AUGUST

